

BODY, MIND & SPIRIT

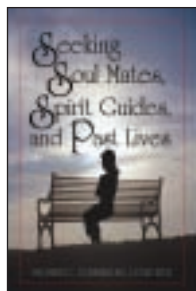

1 PLAGUES PAST AND PRESENT, A MIND/BODY APPROACH

by J. H. Hacsí. This book takes a unique look at past and present plagues, zeroing in on the cultural patterns co-existent with each plague, showing how these patterns could cause deadly, immune suppressant emotions that triggered plagues, bringing death to millions. Other millions avoided the deadly emotional reaction and survived. The author discusses the cultural patterns that cause our current cancer plague and pinpoints the negative emotions that cause the three forms of cancer—lung, breast and prostate—that claim the most lives. "Plagues Past and Present is a riveting read of psychology and health."—Jim Cox, Midwest Book Review, * by Rosalyn Susanne Schnell. This book brings the reader into the classrooms of America and speaks to parents about the widespread conditions of principal abuse of power in our public school system. Teachers give detailed examples of principal abuses they have experienced, and describe how the situation remains hidden from the general public. Teachers fear repercussions for publicly speaking out. Consequently, parents have been kept in the dark and do not realize their children's education is affected. Teachers interviewed freely expressed their feelings regarding both 'good' and 'bad' principals for whom they worked and the differences related to the quality of education received by their students.

EDUCATION

12 WHEN TEACHERS TALK

28 THE POWER OF TED* (*The Empowerment Dynamic)

by David Emerald. At this time in contemporary history, many feel victimized by circumstances and events beyond their control. The Power of TED (The Empowerment Dynamic) provides a unique and hopeful way of responding to such a challenging time. This fable explores the shift in mindset from a Victim Orientation—and its "drama triangle" dynamics between the roles of Victim, Persecutor and Rescuer—to a Creator Orientation. TED* offers an "antidote" to the drama through its roles of Creator, Challenger and Coach. How to make this "shift happen" elicits hope for a more resourceful way to respond to life experience.

In easy-to-read narrative and diary format, he has put down these dreams and the real events which they predicted. These diaries began with his days as a young man in Romania and continued till the present day in California, with all his travels in between. His experiences offer proof of a supernatural entity, Mr. Dirina feels, because only God can know the future. This is a fine study of paranormal dreams which deserves to be read by everybody. 37 THE SONGBIRD IN MY HEART by Mark Steven Rhoads. This book is a call to action, a song of grace, whispering softly to anyone listening for the call of inner knowing. This book has a simple intention; to help the reader recognize the simple magnificence of being and point toward the purpose of life. The story is intended to be read on a lazy, contemplative afternoon. It is inspired by the work of Dainin Katagiri, H.W.L. Poonja, Don Miguel Ruiz, Eckhart Tolle and Marianne Williamson. While no religious and spiritual traditions are promoted, they are all encouraged and respected.

Attention: Reviewers

Independent Book Publishers Association is a non-profit association. The publishers who send you their books for review do so at their own cost with the assumption that you will take the time to read and review their product. It is our intention that this service is a benefit both to our membership, who pay for this mailing, and the reviewers, who receive these products at no cost. We ask that you respect the implied "honor system" here and request only those books that you actually intend to review
